My Why

Working in education has always been where I see myself. I love helping students and having a positive impact in their lives. Teaching is an incredibly rewarding profession as I get to shape the lives of young people. I enjoy seeing students have that “light bulb” moment and inspiring and motivating them to achieve their potential. I am looking forward to bringing my passion to my students at Goollelal Primary School and being a part of the school community.

My Work History

My teaching career started in 2015 when I was fortunate enough to work at Meekatharra District High School. In 2016, I secured a job at Norseman District High School and have spent the last 7 years there. I spent some time teaching middle primary and for the last couple of years have been back in the Early Childhood area in a Kindy and Pre-Primary classroom. I took on the role of Learning Support Coordinator at Norseman, which involved supporting teachers and Education Assistants with literacy across both primary and high school settings. I led the implementation of intervention programs at Norseman, which has allowed me to broaden my skillset and become a highly effective teacher and leader.

A Bit About Me

I was born in Perth and I am married with one fur child (Josie) whom I absolutely adore. I have spent the last 8 years in the country where I was fortunate enough to meet my husband in Meekatharra. I am relocating back to Perth after spending many years in the country. We have just finished building our dream home and we love taking Josie for a walk. I love cooking and pink is my favourite colour. I enjoy a nice coffee and retail therapy. I am looking forward to enjoying all the shopping, the coffee and most importantly being closer to our family and friends when we move back at the end of 2022.
